AND

WEALTHY CITIZENS OF NEW YORK.

A

Abeel John H. - - - - - $100,000
In partnership with Garrit A. Dunscomb, constituting the firm of John H. Abeel & Co. iron merchants, one of the oldest houses in the city.

Adams John - - - - - - 300,000
Of Irish descent, who by industry and integrity as a merchant in the dry goods line, has acquired a respectable fortune, which he enjoys with the respect of all who know him. He is President of the Fulton Bank. He married a daughter of John Glover, deceased, some twenty years since, by whom he has received some property. See Mrs. Fisher.

Addison Thomas - - - - - 150 000
A distinguished pencil-case maker; a pioneer in this, and made his money by industry. The present ever-pointed pencil-case was first made by him, and owes its form to his ingenuity.

Adee George - - - - - 100 000
Son of William below, and a partner of the firm of Adee, Timpson & Co.

Adee William - - - - - - 200 000
An auctioneer, and formerly senior partner in the firm of Adee, Timpson & Co. From Westchester Co. Began life as a dry goods merchant, and has now retired from business. A very worthy man who has made all his money by active industry, and the most honorable and upright course in business.

Akerley S. Dr. - - - - - - 150,000
Formerly an eminent Physician, who distinguished himself when the yellow fever was raging. Now retired.

Allen Stephen - - - - - - 400,000
A man who without money, without family connexions, and without education, has made his way to independence in fortune, and to high public stations. He began life as a poor sailor boy, afterwards was a sail maker, and finally kept one of the largest sail-lofts in the city. In his business he was industrious scrupulously exact, and rigid in justice. By his reputation for integrity, he procured large accessions to his business. He was made Mayor of the city in 1821, and re-elected for two successive years, and afterwards a Senator of the State, and a State Commissioner of the Croton Water Works, in which capacity his powerful influence did much toward the success of that great enterprise. Mr. Allen is an energetic and decided man, always adopting a policy of his own, and carrying it out with great self-reliance. He is just, but not generous; and in mind and manners rude and unpolished. At the time of difficulty in the New York Life Insurance and Trust Co., he was made the President.

Alley Saul - - - - - - 250,000
Mr. A. was bound, when a small boy, apprentice to a coach maker. During his apprenticeship his father died, and left him totally dependent on his own exertions. The very clothes he wore he was obliged to earn by toiling extra hours, after the regular time of leaving off work had passed. The foundation of his fortune he acquired by the exercise of frugality and prudence while a journeyman mechanic.

He was born in Providence, R.I., where he learnt the trade of Cabinet maker, and subsequently carried on the business at Charleston, S. C., where he failed through the sole fault of his partner. Mr. Alley came to this city and undertook a commission business in cotton and domestic goods. His creditors at Charleston having confidence in him were his first patrons, and among them Mordecai Conen, a rich Jew. In a few years he paid his creditors, and by business tact, integrity, and industry, has amassed his wealth. He retired from business several years since. Mr. Alley is an example of a man of strong mind pushing his way through the world without the benefits of education and under many difficulties.

Alstyne John - - - - - - 200 000
Of the firm of Alstyne & Dykers, rich brokers in Wall street.

Ames Barret - - - - - - 100,000
Formerly of the firm of Ames & Witherell, iron-dealers. A new England man—made all his money and retired from business. He was in business at the South.

Amos —— Estate of - - - 200,000

Andariese Barnet - - - 100,000
An excellent Tailor and a very amiable man.

Anderson Abel T. - - - - - 200 000
A respectable lawyer, who inherited most of his property from his father, who acquired his fortune in the manufacture of boots and shoes.

Anderson Henry J. - - - - - 100,000
The respected Professor of Mathematics in Columbia College.

Andrew Henry - - 100,000
Native of Scotland, made his fortune in the Carpet trade, was prominent in the Whig ranks, and sent to the Assembly of this state some years since; a very good citizen.

Anthon Charles - - - - 100,000
A brother of John, and professor of Latin language and literature in Columbia College. Mr. Anthon has published many works; the one most widely known is Anthon's Classical Dictionary. Mr. Anthon has a popular reputation as a scholar, and is a most learned man. In his Classical Dictionary, and other works, he has been charged with having made too free use of the labors of others.

Anthon John - - - - - - 300,000
His father was a very respectable and learned physician of this city, and born of German parents. The sons of Dr. Anthon have distinguished themselves; John as a lawyer, Henry as a divine, and Charles as a scholar, and professor of the Latin language and literature in Columbia College. They all received something from their father, but John by the adoption of a more lucrative profession, and especially by his marriage with the daughter of a rich auctioneer, John Coue, possesses much the largest fortune.

John Anthon's parents were Roman Catholics, but the family are now Episcopalians. Low Churchmen.

Appleton Daniel - - - - - 100,000
Of the firm of D. Appleton & Co., booksellers and publishers

Appleby Leonard - - - 100,000

Arcularius George - - - - 300,000
Born of German parents, and, with his brother Phillip, obtained his wealth as a baker, in which business he has been famous for many years, and in which he still continues. He is a man much respected for his numerous good qualities. Gen. Henry A. late Commissary General of the state, is one of his sons.

Arnold Aaron - - - - - - 250,000
An Englishman who brought money with him from England, and has been in the retail dry goods business in Canal street, and now in partnership with his son in-law Constable, an Englishman also.

Arthur John - - 100,000

Aspinwall Wm. H 400,000
Of the firm of Howland & Aspinwall, shipping merchants. The father of Mr. Aspinwall has long been known as an intelligent and shrewd broker, and is of an ancient and honorable family. Mr. Aspinwall has a beautiful seat on Staten Island, and his residence in this city is very valuable.

Astor John Jacob - - - - 25,000,000

John Jacob Astor is classed, by those who know him best, not only among the richest but also among the truly great men of the world. The talent which in another age, and in another state of society, was exercised in the art of war, is now to a great extent engaged in the peaceful occupations of the counting-room. War has been a great field for the developement of great talents. But commerce affords scope for a greater variety of talent, and is a field on which the most gigantic genius, and the most soaring ambition may expend themselves in unlimited conquests. In this department of human action Astor has displayed a great mind. Landing on our shores as a common steerage passenger—a poor uneducated boy—a stranger to the language and the people—he has by the sole aid of his own industry, accumulated a fortune scarcely second to that of any individual on the globe, and has executed projects that have become identified with the history of his country, and which will perpetuate his name to the latest age. He was born in July, 1763, in the village of Waldorp, near Heidelberg, in the Duchy of Baden, Germany. His father was a very worthy man and held the office of bailiff. At the age of eighteen young Astor, on the eve of leaving his home for a foreign land, resolved to be honest and industrious, and never to gamble. In March, 1784, he landed at Baltimore, a steerage passenger, having sailed from London in November, and been detained by the ice three months. On his voyage he became acquainted with a fellow countryman of his, a furrier, who induced Mr. Astor to learn this art. The main portion of Mr. Astor's property at this time consisted of seven flutes from his brother's manufactory, at London, which, with a few other articles of merchandize, he sold, and invested the small proceeds in furs, and commenced learning the fur-trade. He was soon after engaged as clerk in the fur establishment of Robert Bowne, the first cousin of Walter's father, (see Walter Bowne,) a good old quaker, who prized Mr. Astor very much for his untiring industry and fidelity. Subsequently, by the aid of a few thousands from his brother Harry, a rich Bowery butcher, he engaged in business for himself, associated with the late Cornelius Heyer. Afterwards he became associated with Mr. Smith, the father of Gerrit Smith. At the close of the revolutionary war, Oswego, Niagara, Detroit, and other posts being in possession of a foreign power, a serious embarrassment was thrown in the way of the fur trade. Soon after Mr. Astor entered the business, in 1794-5, by a treaty these posts were surrendered, when, contemplating the grand opportunity then offered to him, he said, "Now I will make my fortune in the fur-trade." His prediction was verified. Astor, with an industry and sagacity unparalelled, improved his opportunity, and after the lapse of six years, during the first year of the present century, he had amassed something like $250,000 dollars. By the natural course of accumulation, this sum, at the present time, would have amounted to $5,000,000—but in Mr. Astor's hands it has increased to more than four times that amount. Nine years later, at the age of forty-five, Mr. Astor founded the American Fur Company, for the purpose of competing with the powerful British associations, which were in a fair way to monopolize the traffic in furs throughout the Northern and South Western portions of our continent. The outposts of this new company stretched into new and hitherto untrodden fields, and secured the richest spoils of beaver, otter, and buffalo. It had indeed previously as well as now been the policy of Mr. Astor to extend his conquests into new territories. The projection and establishment of this company did not satisfy his gigantic intellect. His grand project of the Astoria settlement was now formed. It was his design to establish a series of forts along the Pacific Ocean, and on the Columbia River, in connexion with our government, and thus monopolize the fur trade west of the Rocky Mountains. The first post, Astoria, was established in 1810, by a party of sixty men under the command of Mr. W. P. Hunt. This settlement, which was destined to be the commercial emporium of the Northern Pacific, was to be supplied with commodities from New York, and the same vessel was also to convey supplies to the Russian trading settlements farther north, and receive furs in exchange. With the furs from the Russian posts, and from Astoria, she was to proceed to Canton, then the best market for furs, and return home with teas, silks, and nankeens. In the projection of this magnificent enterprize, Astor anticipated that the settlement would prove a bill of costs for the first two years, and that no considerable profits would be received in less than ten years. At the expiration of twenty years he counted on receiving a million of dollars annual profits. The Tonquin, the first, and the Lark, the third vessel, dispatched for Astoria, were lost, yet notwithstanding, the enterprise would not have failed, had not Astoria been sold to the agents of the British North West Fur Company, through the treachery of one of Mr. Astor's partners, a Scotchman named McDougal. Astoria had to struggle through many difficulties in consequence of being captured during the late war, and just as peace was declared, and as it was to be restored, it was wrenched from Mr. Astor's hands by the treachery of his partner. From the time of the establishment of the American Fur Company, Mr. Astor became largely engaged in commerce. His ships freighted with furs for France, England, Germany and Russia—and with peltries, ginseng, and dollars for China, now ploughed every sea, to receive these products of the New World and exchange them for the valuable commodities of the Old. Mr. Astor's instructions to his captains were minute and exceedingly particular. He evinced almost as intimate a knowledge of the various markets in which he traded, as though he had been a resident at each respective mart. In the distribution of his cargoes at home, and in exchanging his commodities with the natives, Mr. Astor exercised a minute inspection even to the smallest details, and seemed to possess an almost intuitive knowledge of the market, not only in the United States, but also in Canada. Yet Mr. Astor did not bestow at his counting-house more than half the time most merchants feel compelled to give their concerns. It has been remarked of him, by one of his intimate friends, a man of some eminence, that Mr. Astor, was capable of commanding an army of 500,000 men. During a good portion of Mr. Astor's active life, he resided in a large house in the lower part of Broadway, and lived in a style of princely magnificence, attended by servants from some of the various nations with which he traded, and among them some from the Empire of the Celestials. His house was furnished with the richest plate, and his apartments adorned with works of art, among which was a Cupid by Mignard, which was regarded as a work of rare merit, and for which Astor paid a princely sum.

Notwithstanding the magnitude and success of Mr. Astor's business operations, yet the greatest source of his wealth has resulted from the increased value of real estate consequent on the continued growth of the city. At an early day he foresaw the future greatness of this commercial emporium of the Western Continent, and was wont to convert two-thirds of his annual gains into real estate, not one foot of which he ever mortgaged. It has been his policy to invest in mortgages on the best property offered, and in case of fore-closure, which has often happened, he has bought the property in at much less than its real value. In this mode, together with the continually increasing value of real estate, in this city, he has multiplied his wealth far beyond the natural accumulation by the ordinary interest, and hence too the bulk of his property. Mr. Astor has vast tracts of land in Missouri, Wisconsin, Iowa, and other part of the West, the prospective value of which is very great. The greater portion of his property is in real estate and mortgages in this city. Could Mr. Astor's property be kept unbroken and under its present management, it would become the largest individual estate ever known on the globe. The estimates of the value of his property given above is moderate; those knowing his affairs best placing it at $30,000,000; and some as high even as $50,000,000. His income on a moderete estimate must be $2,000,000 a year, or $166,000 a month, which is about $41,500 a week; $5,760 a day, $240 an hour, and $4 a minute. Mr. Astor has made a donation of $350,000 for a library in this city, the interest of which is to be expended in employing agents to purchase books, and in the erection of a building. Mr. Cogswell, late editor of the N. Y. Review, is the agent and librarian. Mr. Astor has two sons, Wm. B. and one who has been imbecile from his birth; one of his daughters became the Countess of Rumpff, and lately deceased at Paris, another (deceased) was married to Mr. Bristed, an Englishman, author of a work on the Resources of America, and now a clergyman at Bristol, R. I. A grandson Charles Bristed is at Cambridge, England.

John Jacob Astor beat skins in Gold street in early life.

Astor Wm. B - - - - - - 5,000,000

The son of John Jacob, and holding a power of attorney for the transaction of all his father's business, and exercising generally a superintendence over that immense property of which he undoubtedly expects to be the principal heir. Yet Wm. B. has received much of his property from his deceased uncle, Henry Astor, long celebrated as a butcher in the Bowery, in which business he accumulated his wealth. The amount received from his uncle did not exceed half a million, yet by fortunate investments, chiefly in real estate, and by donations from his father, who has given him the Astor House, it has increased to this extraordinary amount.

Austen David - - - - - - 400,000

A distinguished auctioneer, who made money at a time when auctioneers reaped their $50,000 a year profit. By his marriage with a sister of John Hagerty, he received, no doubt, an accession to his fortune. At the present time auctioneers, like all others, can reap but slow profits, and that by careful industry, and close attention to business. Mr. Austen is an excellent business man, and a most estimable citizen.

Aymar Benjamin - - - - - 300,000

This, and the next below, his brother, are English dscent, and self-made men, though of humble origin. They are very enterprizing merchants, and bear excellent characters as gentlemen and citizens. They have been principally engaged in West India commerce.

Aymar John Q. - - - - - 200,000

B

Babad H. - - - - - - - 100,000

Bache Robert - - - - - - 200 000

A rich Distiller, residing in Brooklyn.

Baldwin John C. - - - - - 150,000

In the Domestic Commission business in Pine st.—made his money in Pearl street, by close attention and unwearied industry; is from the land of steady habits, and inherits the perseverance of his native State.

Banks David - - - - - - 100 000

A Law Book seller, of the firm of Gould, Banks & Co., ex-alderman of the fifth ward, now President of the Harlem Rail Road Co., and an influential man in the Democratic party. Married the daughter of Paul B. Lloyd, and acquired all his money by industry and integrity in his business.

Banks David - - - - - - 300 000

A retired West India merchant of an English family, and married a daughter of Robert Lennox, by whom he received a large property.

Banyer Mrs - - - - - - 100,000

Sister of Peter A Jay, deceased.

Bard William - - - - - - 100,000

Is a Son of Dr. Samuel Bard, and fully retains the reputation of an honorable sire.

Barclay George - - - - - 150,000

Estimable son of the venerable Colonel Barclay, British Consul, deceased.

Barnum Phineas Taylor - - 150,000

The proprietor of the American Museum, and guardian of the celebrated Tom Thumb, was born in Danbury, Ct., where he was at one time engaged as a lottery dealer, and merchant, and afterwards editor and proprietor of an influential newspaper, entitled the Herald of Freedom, which, being free with the failings of orthodox pretenders, and making some rather severe strictures on Judge Daggett, then of the Supreme Court, brought down the ire of that venerable Judge, and Barnum was imprisoned for libel. The day of his liberation was celebrated by a grand gala scene and oration, and the martyr to universalism, was nominated by his friends for Governor. Soon afterwards he came to this city, and soon became known as the exhibitor of Joice Heath. Subsequently obtaining possession of the American Museum, he became the proprietor, and meeting with Tom Thumb, has made his fortune mainly by means of that juvenile wonder. Mr. Barnum is now in Europe, exhibiting Tom Thumb, by whom he is coining money.

Barre L. P. - - - - - - 100,000

Barrow Dr. - - - - - - 100,000

Barsalou Victor - - - - - 190.000

A Frenchman, and Importer of Wines and Brandies.

Barstow H. W. - - - - 100,000

Bayard Robert - - - - - 150,000

Second son of the late William Bayard, much esteemed for his integrity and benevolence.

Battelle Joseph - - - - - 150 000

Of a Connecticut family, and of the firm of Eggleston & Battelle, iron merchants. Mr. Battelle has made a profitable use of his capital.

Beach M. Y. - - - - - - 250,000

Moses Yale Beach was born in Wallingford, onn., a connection on his mother's side of Elihu Yale, Esq., founder of Yale College, and for many years Governor of the East India Company. At an early age he was apprenticed to the Cabinet making business, in Hartford, Connecticut, where, by over work, and working nights, managed to save, by the time he had attained his eighteenth year, $400, with which he purchased of his employer the remainder of his time, and commenced business on his own account in Massachusetts Soon after he married and has since then, passed through the rough and varied scenes of a business life. Soon after the commencement of the Sun newspaper, he purchased Mr. Wisner's interest, being one-half, paying for the experiment $5200 As soon as he found this to be a safe and permanent business, he bought out his partner, for which he paid $19,000. From this point, his star, or rather sun, has been steadily in the ascendant, and now we find him the publisher of the most extensively circulated newspaper upon the globe, and the principal stockholder in four Banks, all in good standing, and prosperous, besides doing under his own name a large amount of banking. For assistance in his unparalelled business, he has the services of five sons, brought up in active life under his own eye, and who may yet prove "chips of the old block."

Becar N. J. - - - - - - 100,000

Beekman Henry - - - - - 200 000

Descendant of Gov. W. Beekman, about 220 years since Dutch Governor of South Fort, on the Delaware. If any of the Dutch noblesse of the very earliest colonizations at New Amsterdam (now New York) remain, here is one who, like all the intermediate links from the Governor down, have nobly upheld the renown and rank of their ancestors. The Beekmans, however, have never been numerous. Two others of the family follow. Governor Beekman was one of those stalwart men, who, as early as 1653, demanded of the Holland government a liberal charter for this city, and it was given.

Beekman James W. - - - - - 100 000

Of the same family, and married a daughter of Dr. Phillip Milledoler, ex-President of Brunswick College.

Beekman John - - - - - 150,000

Beekman S. D Dr. - - - - - 150 000

Received the greater portion of his fortune by his wife, daughter of Gov. Clinton, formerly Vice President of the U. S.

Bennet James Arlington - - - 150.000

In regard to money matters Mr. Bennet is a self-made man. That he is a ripe scholar we think none will dispute. But the principal part of his property has been derived from his Lectures on Book Keeping, and his celebrated work on that subject, recently published by the Harpers for the sum of $40,000. The Collins' paid him also about $50,000 for the time it was in their hands. His Lectures on Book Keeping, we were assured, produced upwards of $90,000. This gentleman might have been worth half a million had he improved his estate, instead of spending it in ostentatious folly; such as driving four horses in his coach on Long Island—building and living in a palace in the most aristocratic style.

But to do Mr. Bennet justice, we must say that he is a well disposed, clever man, whose ruling passion is ambition. He is too, a Counsellor at Law, and a Doctor of Medicine, a graduate we believe of the College of Physicians and Surgeons in this city. He is a native of Ireland, descended from an English family, but came to this country very young, and has been educated here. He was an officer of artillery in the United States Army during the late war with England, and delivered his first Lecture on Book Keeping in Albany.

Betts Samuel R. - - - - - 100,000

Judge of the United States Court for the Southern District of New York. A sterling man. The father of Judge B. was a wealthy farmer of Berkshire County, Mass., who readily yielded to the desire of his son for a professional life, and we see the latter, at an early age, graduating at Williams' College, Massachusetts, subsequently studying law at Hudson, Columbia County, in this State, and afterwards commencing practice in Sullivan County, N. Y. He was elected Democratic Member of the 14th Congress from that county, whence he removed to Orange County, and filled various offices of honor and trust. In 1823 he was appointed by Gov. Yates Circuit Judge of the Second Circuit, as one of the eight Judges under the new Constitution; and in 1827 designated by President Adams to the distinguished situation he now fills with so much industry and ability.

Judge B. married Miss Dewey, of Williamstown, daughter of Judge Dewey, (for a long time Judge of the Supreme Court of Massachusetts, which position her brother, Hon. C. A. Dewey, now occupies).

They reside in one of the splendid mansions at St. Mark's Place, in a style (though unostentatious) in keeping with their position in life. They have had five children, four of whom are still living. The other was Mr. Charles D. Betts, whose recent decease caused so much deep and genuine regret in the community.

Berger E. Francis - - - 150,000
A French physician of this city, distinguished for his talents.

Betts Geo. W. - - - - - - 100,000
A native of Norwalk, Ct., and one of the pioneers of the Carpet business in this city, in which business he still continues Mr. Betts is esteemed as one of our most worthy citizens.

Belmont Augustus - - - - 100 000
A native of Germany, and agent of the Rothschilds, and a Banker.

Bidwell Walter H. - - - - - 100,000
This gentleman is proprietor of the New York Evangelist, a religious paper which has deservedly a very large and increasing subscription. He is deservedly esteemed for his sincere and uneffected piety, and a reputation for honest business transactions.

Bill Charles E. - - - - - 250,000
Made his money in jobbing and importing Dry Goods. A careful, straightforward merchant.

Bininger Abrm. (Estate of) - - 300,000

Bissse Lewis - - - - - - 150 000
From France, came to this country with $50,000, and married a lady who kept a Boarding School at Bloomingdale, and subsequently opened a school in Beach street.

Bishop Japhet - - - - 200 000
A hardware dealer, and married a daughter of David N. Wolfe

Blackburne Henry - - - - - 200,000

Blackwell Drayton - - - - - 200,000
A brother of widow Howell, and son of Mr. Blackwell, who established the first foundry in the city, which was at the corner of Canal street and Broadway, and a store at Coenties Slip, and was succeeded by one of his sons, who is now deceased. He made a fortune, and bought Blackwell's island, and hence its name. Drayton studied law under Mayor Radcliffe, but has never practised.

Blatchford R M - - - - - 200 000
A lawyer and agent of the Bank of England. He has been distinguished as a politician of the Whig party. His father was a clergyman at Bridgeport, Ct. where a brother (now deceased) was also settled a few years since. Mr. Blatchford graduated at Union College.

Bleecker J. W. - - - - - - 200 000
Of an ancient New York family.

Bloodgood Estate of - - - 250,000

Bloodgood Thomas - - - - 100,000
Of an ancient family of New Amsterdam, who then spelt their names "Bloetgood."

Boardman David Estate of - - 200,000

Bogardus Robert, - - - - - 150.000
The Rev. Everardus Bogardus was a great name in the time of our Dutch ancestors. Whether a descendant from Gen. Robert B., an eminent counsellor, we know not—but his native shrewdness and perseverance needed no ancestral dignities for his advancement. "Gas stock," 'tis said, consummated his fortune.

Bogart Eugene - - - - - 150 000
Descended from a Hugenot. Anterior to the American Revolution, Cornelius was a large land owner and merchant, leaving his business to his two sons, Henry C. and Nicholas C., who were among the largest merchants of their day; their business with London being very extensive. N. C. married a daughter of Myndert Schuyler, an eminent merchant of this city, and during the Revolutionary war moved to Tappan, Rockland Co. Andre was confined in his house, and Washington and other officers often visited him. He left two sons, Cornelius N. and David S. The former died a bachelor, and the latter was graduated at Columbia College in 1790, and settled as a Clergyman at Southampton, L. I., from 1798 to 1813, and then at Hempstead until 1826, when he came to this city, and died in 1839. One of his sons, Alwyn, is a physician in this city, and a daughter, Elizabeth, is distinguished as an authoress. The wife of David S. was a daughter of Jonas Pratt. Her brother Ebenezer, was taken a prisoner during the Revolutionary war, and carried to London, where he married a sister of Sir Benjamin West's wife, the daughter of Mrs. Wright, celebrated for her skill in wax modelling. Another brother, Col. Richard, was the officer who received the gallant Montgomery in his arms while expiring, at the siege of Quebec, Dec. 31, 1775. Eugene is the son of David S., and early entered into mercantile pursuits, in which he has attained his wealth, by the most honorable course of dealing. He married a daughter of David Beck, Esq., of this city. He has retired from business, leaving the brothers, Alex. A. and Orlando M., to succeed him in the firm of Bogart & Brothers, Commission Merchants.

Bogert Henry H. - - - - - 100 000
Of an ancient Dutch family, and one of the firm of Bogert & Kneeland, cotton and liquor brokers, and commission merchants.

Bogert James, - - - - - - 300 000
Of the same family, and residing in Brooklyn.

Bogert James Jr. - - - - - 300 000

Bolton Curtis - - - - - - 250.000
From Georgia, where he has a plantation, and in this city a merchant.

Bonnefoux Laurent - - - - 100,000
A lynx-eyed, clear-headed French gentleman—a second Cassimir Perrier, in the ability with which he conducts his private banking institution, and in the good sense with which he discourses upon the currency of the country.

Bonnett Peter - - - - - - 150 000

Boorman James - - - - - 500 000
Of the firm of Boorman, Johnston & Co., extensive iron merchants. He is president of the council of the University, and out of his liberality has endowed a professorship. An adopted daughter married Josiah Wheeler, a lawyer.

Bourhaud Joseph - - - - - 200,000
A French resident, who has become rich as an importer of French goods.

Bowne Walter - - - - - - 150,000
Of an ancient and very numerous Quaker family of L. I. John, who was born at Matlock, in Derbyshire, England, in 1627, with his father, Thomas, and a sister, came to Boston in 1649, and in 1651 they settled in Flushing. John married a daughter of Robert Field, of Flushing, a sister of the wife of Capt. John Underhill, and in 1661 built the house there, which has been occupied by his descendants until recently, when it passed into the possession of James Parsons, whose mother was the daughter John Bowne, the fourth, a lineal descendant of the first John, and is now occupied by Mr. Parsons. In this house, George Fox, in 1672, was entertained by Mr. Bowne, and his wife, who early became quakers. In 1662 Bowne was imprisoned for three months, and then sent to Holland for trial, by the notorious Governor Stuyvesant, on the charge of "procuring lodgings, for, and frequenting the Conventicles of the obstinate sect of Quakers."

He was acquitted in Holland, and a severe reprimand administered to the Governor. Walter is the son of James, whose father, Samuel, was the grandson of John. Walter was elected Mayor of this city in 1828, which office he held for five successive years. Subsequently he was a State Senator, and was one of the U. S. commissioners for the erection of the Custom House. Mr. Bowne was, in early life, "an out-door under writer," and has been a merchant, in which line he has amassed much wealth in addition to his inheritance. His investments in real estate in this city have added much to his fortune. Mr. Bowne is universally respected for his integrity and virtues, and has ever been an influential man. Mary Franklin, the first wife of De Witt Clinton, was a descendant of the Bownes. Walter married Elizabeth Southgate, by whom he has two children; Walter, jr., who married Eliza Repelye, and Mary, the wife of John W. Lawrence, of Flushing. We think we might with safety add $100,000 to the present estimate.

Bruce George - - - - - - 200 000
A worthy mechanic, who, in company with his brother, from a printer, some years ago, became a type founder. By great industry and care, the possession of much natural shrewdness, and judicious operations in real estate, he has rendered himself wealthy, and is now master of a handsome fortune.

Bruce J. M. - - - - - - 150,000

Bruen Matthias - - - - - 700 000
When the great China merchant, Thos. H. Smith, of this city, failed, Bruen, through his son, Geo. W. B., who had married to Smith's daughter, became possessed of all Smith's ships, teas, &c. as Smith's bondsman. Government unwisely relinquished the greater part of what was due to the revenues, say $600,000, and this has made through rise of Smith's assets, houses, &c., a vast property for the Bruens, a New Jersey family, and originally dry goods merchants. George W. lived in Italy and was in the Leghorn line.

Bryson David - - - - - - 400,000

Carman Richard F. - - - - - 250,000
Began life as a poor boy, making packing boxes for merchants, and laboring until ten or eleven o'clock every night. Accumulated some money, and commenced as a carpenter and builder, in which, by means of his untiring industry, integrity, and talent, he amassed means and reputation sufficient to enable him to make large contracts, in 1836, for rebuilding in the "burnt district." At the time of taking his contracts, wages and materials were high, but long before the completion of his work, the price of labor and materials had depreciated to such an extent, that he realised an immense profit. He has continued building, and has invested his proceeds in real estate, the value of which has greatly risen since his purchase. He has a beautiful seat at Fort Washington, in the upper part of the island, where he resides in the summer. He is now building a village two miles this side of Fort Washington, named Carmanville. In 1842 Alderman Carman was elected by the whigs of the twelfth ward, and held his seat for one year. Mr. Carman is one of those strong-minded men for whom nature has done more than education, and is, moreover, a very liberal and excellent man. No man is more respected.

Carnes Francis (estate of his daughters) 200,000
A gentleman, every inch of him—and but few such specimens of a highly educated merchant. Resided a long while in Paris, where he was held in great consideration both among his countrymen and the elite of French society, for his fine taste, classical acquirements, polished manners, and ready wit. He is yankee born, of great respectability, and after many ups and downs of life, and locating himself with his accomplished second wife at New York, his two beautiful daughters, just grown and wife, have come into the above inheritance, through death of a maternal great uncle.

Mr. C. is a lawyer. He married Miss Hedges, an heiress of the Rutger estate.

Clarkson Mathew (and Wife) - - 150,000
Mr. Clarkson is a most excellent man and pious Christian, lives in a showey but poorly constructed 60 feet square, situated at Flatbush, in one of the most beautiful lawns in the State. Instead of a building of wood, this lawn, which is the production of Mrs. Clarkson, a lady of great taste, intelligence, and refinement, is entitled to a splendid mansion of marble or granite. This gentleman is a son of the late Gen. Clarkson of this city, and brother to the long broker of that name. A wag wrote some years ago—

"Wanted in Wall street ten practical jokers
As a match for Mat Clarkson, the prince of the Croakers."

Mr. Clarkson erected, mostly at his own cost, St. Paul's (Episcopal) Church, at Flatbush, where the eloquent and Rev. Mr. Newman now officiates as Rector. Mr. Newman is an Englishman of great learning and piety, and has a pair of most accomplished and sacinating daughters. This family of Clarksons is of the highest respectability, and cuts the best figure in Flatbush.

Crosby John P. - - - - - 100,000
Mr. C. married a daughter of Hon. Benjamin F. Butler. His first wife was a Murray, by whom, we believe, he received an accession to his estate.

Childs Samuel, R. (Estate of his wife,) 100,000

Clinton Mrs. H. (widow of Geo.) - 100,000
Mrs. Hannah Clinton, daughter of Walter Franklin, Esq., an eminent Quaker merchant of this city, from L. Island. Her husband was nephew to Vice President Geo. Clinton, and brother of the great Governor, Dewitt Clinton—"Satis est" for Clinton a household name—but the rich Franklin brothers, merchants of New-York, deserve a memento for the many noble ways in which they through intercession with the Tory authority and Hessian troops, were enabled generously to dispense their wealth to their poor miserable, suffering countrymen, the American prisoners confined in the Sugar House, Provost, &c. during the American Revolution. Mrs. Hannah C. is a sister also of Gov. Dewitt Clinton's first wife, descendant of the Bownes, by whom alone Gov. D. C. had issue.

Clinton Charles A. (Estate of his wife) 100 000
This oldest son of the ever to be lamented and never to be forgotten Governor Dewitt Clinton, every way worthy of that illustrious man, is happily placed beyond the reach of the pecuniary distress which that father heroically succumbed to for the sake of enriching ungrateful millions with the benefits of those magnificent works of internal improvement which immortalize his name. The estate of Mr. Charles A. Clinton comes through his marriage with a daughter of Jno. Hone.

Cobb Oliver - - - - 100,000

Coddington Jonathan I. - - - 100 000
A merchant, and late worthy Postmaster, and from the first jump of his parentage on this continent, two centuries since, in the person of the famous Wm. Coddington, Esq., of England, first of Boston, then the founder and first governor of Rhode Island, (1638.) He was the first merchant of New England, built the first brick house in Boston, and at his house at Newport was held the first Quaker meeting. Jonathan is a lineal descendant of Gov. C. and was long a distinguished merchant of our city, and like his great progenitor, he is a very worthy man, and was the democratic candidate for Mayor at the last election.

Coster John G. (estate of) - - 600,000
Two brothers, John G. and Henry A., the former lately deceased, and the latter twenty years ago, are of a respectable family in Amsterdam, and began here as merchants soon after the revolution, and by honest industry amassed a great fortune. While Napoleon held Holland, they, through confidential correspondence were enabled to know how far to push the trade thither, and thus in return importations of gin found so rich a harvest, that their wealth rapidly accumulated from that hour. They were gentlemen born and of irreproachable integrity. The millions the two brothers amassed is nearly all melted away before it has barely got into the hands of their children. Dr. Hosack, deceased, made a deep gouge into that of Henry's widow, but where is it?

Henry A. Coster left about $3,000,000, yet but little of it is left. John G. met with heavy losses through the instrumentality of his children who were unsuccessful in business. John H., a son, and Mr. Berryman, a son-in-law, went into business as importers, and lost a large sum. Berryman and his wife are dead.

Cruger Mrs. Douglas - - - 400 000
Her father was Geo. Douglass, a Scotch merchant, who hoarded closely. His wine cellar was more extensive than his library. When George used to see people speculating and idle, it distressed him. He would say "People get too many idees in their heads. Why don't they work?" What a blessing he is not alive in this moonshine age of dreamy schemings.

The Crugers were of Bristol, Eng., of which the one that first came out here, "Old Harry," father-in-law of the present judge Thos. Oakley, of the Superior Court, had been Mayor. Mrs. Cruger is the sister of Geo. and Wm. Douglass, which see. Her husband is a lawyer.

Cruger John C. - - - - - - 300,000

Son of Mr. Peter Cruger, and grandson of old Mr. Nicholas Cruger who was in 1770 the largest merchant of New York, and who is referred to in the "Knickerbocker" of January, 1843, as having been the patron of General Alexander Hamilton, the son of Henry Crugar, Sen., Mayor of Bristol (England), and brother of Henry, Jr., also Mayor of Bristol. The same Magazine states that the first of the family emigrated (a large merchant of Bristol) in 1660, amongst our earliest setlers.

Mr. John C. Cruger has been married twice, first to a daughter of the late Isaac Jones, Sen., and second, to the youngest daughter of the late Patroon.

The ship Warsaw, sold on the 30th of October, 1844, made him $90,000 in one voyage round Cape Horn. He has been largely interested in the trade between Cuba and Spain, and some of his ships to Africa, it is said, have brought out cargoes, that have paid a great profit.

Harper & Brothers - - - 500,000
This firm consists of four brothers, James, (the present Mayor, John, Joseph W. and Fletcher. They are of a respectable family on Long Island, and coming to this city, learned the Printer's trade. Jas. and John, under the firm of J. & J. Harper, after their time was out, commenced doing job work, and printing for Publishers. The distinguished house of Collins, Keese & Co., (now Collins, Brothers,) large publishers of school books, gave them employment. Getting out of work, they applied to the Collins for advice as to what book they should print. The Collins gave them advice, and they printed a work which was successful, followed up by another fortunate book, until at length they became publishers, and finally their two other brothers being added, they enlarged their business under the firm of Harper & Brothers. They are now the most extensive publishers in this country, and their names, in the history of literature, will be associated with those of Galliane, Constable, Murray, and Longman. They have in different parts of America, from twelve to fifteen hundred booksellers acting as their agents, besides a large number of travelling clergymen, and other itinerants. So extensive is their business connexion that should they dispose of but one or two copies to each agency, they would be sure to pay the expenses of publication, and no matter what work they may publish, (and they have published several of the worst and most stupid books ever issued,) they are sure to dispose of, on an average more than two copies to each house with which they deal. They have a correspondence established not only with every considerable place in this country, but with cities abroad, where books are published, informing them of every work worthy of publication. They have besides in this city, and other parts of the United States, many literary men in their employment, to pronounce their opinion of manuscripts submitted for publication, to revise those that are imperfect, and to write notices and puffs for the more important newspapers and magazines which they have either directly or indirectly subsidized to their interest.
Harper & Brothers have just received their coat of arms from the American Collegr of Heraldry.

Hart David - - - - - - 250,000
A worthy Jew, who went from this city to New Orleans, where he so gained the confidence of his employers, that they entrusted him with the charge of their business, which soon enabled him to engage in business on his own account. Hatch Geo. W. - - - - - - 100,000
Rawdon, Wright & Hatch are the celebrated bank engravers, and another sample of intelligent, spirited mechanics, making for themselves a name and a fortune incomparably more to be prized than the wealth which has been acquired too often by mere mercantile gambling. There is substance, and truth, and reality —something tangible, and definite, and susceptible of ocular demonstration and utility in the fruits of mechanics labors, but what visible means of livelihood, and what direct and practical utility do we see in many other professions, to wit: swindling stock operations, but which are yet deemed more reputable than the walks of mechanic life. The time is gone by, however, when dreaming speculators and fancy operators can any longer sneer superciliously at the "brawny arms" and "russet palms" of the honest laborer. Thus much has been done by breaking up a false system of credit, and by consequence, breaking up the nests of lounging, idle upstarts, that like mushrooms on a dung-hill, sprouted up out of the corrupt masses of rag-paper and spurious capital. May Rawdon and Hatch never lend their burin and mezzotinto to any paper that does not command yellow mint drops instanter at the counter on the very face of it. Mr. Hatch is half brother of Ex-Governor Throop, and to judge of his early prosperous career, cannot be said to have counted his chickens before they were hatched. Mr. Rawdon is a branch of the Irish family of Rawdon, Earl of Moira, who was so distinguished as a British partizan or cavalry officer during the revolutionary war.

Kellogg Edward - - - - $100,000
Born in Litchfield Co., Ct., and began life a footpedlar, carrying trunks filled with tin-pepper boxes and other Yankee notions. Being man a of genius, it was not long before he became a dry-good jobber in Pearl street, making $20,000 per annum nett profit. In 1837, at a time when by a legitimate business he had become worth half a million or more, he failed in consequence of heavy losses ($200,000 almost in a lump) by his southern customers, and by an unfortunate speculation in Elizabethport lots. He has, however, paid all his creditors, leaving a snug fortune for himself. He is the projector and mover of the Elizabethport speculation, owning a large part of the village. These were first laid out and bought by a company of stockholders who intended to build up a manufacturing village to rival Newark. Most of the stockholders failing to pay their instalments, Kellogg took their shares and became the chief shareholder. These lots cost him from $300 to $400 an acre. In addition to his estate in Elizabethport, Mr. Kellogg is an owner in the two steamboats plying between that place and this city, and has real estate here and in Brooklyn where he resides. He is now again engaged in the dry good jobbing business in Pearl st. Mr. Kellogg is no ordinary man, having in addition to his attention to a large business, acquired an education superior to many, who in early life have received what is falsely styled "a liberal education."

Kingsland R. - - - - - - 200,000
One of the oldest and richest firms in the hardware line, and a man of great respectability and high standing in this community, a modest gentleman that has calmly pursued "the even tenor of his way" without show or parade, and thus silently passed down the stream of time, every where beloved and honored. Such families how unlike are they to the fluttering, buzzing things of fashion. whose gilded wings collapse with the first shower that dims their sunshine, and "then are heard no more."

Kissam Richard (Estate of) - - 200,000
An estate honestly, nobly acquired in the surgical profession of which he stood undoubtedly at the head in his day, But few keener men in wit or with the knife could be found any where. His forte was lithotomy, in which his cures were truly wonderful. In after life he married and soon after died, leaving a large family of small children, to whom we believe his property was by will bequeathed.

Knapp Shepard - - - - - - 300,000
From New England and self made. He was formerly in the leather business with Jocob Lorrillard and thus acquired his property. In his dealing he was just, and is highly esteemed as a citizen. He is President of the Mechanics Bank.

Kneeland Charles - - - - - 100,000
From down East and self made

Knox A. - - - - - - 100,000

L

Lafarge John - - - - - - 500,000
A Frenchman, and formerly agent for Joseph Buoneparte during his residence in this country. Buoneparte had lands in Pennsylvania which he offered at $1 an acre. Laforge told him if he would survey and divide it, he could get for some lots $20 an acre, and for the others prices ranging from this sum to $1. Buoneparte said, "You may buy it at $1 an acre and dispose of it as you please." "I have no money," replied Laforge. "I will lend it to you," said Buonaparte. Laforge bought the land and laid the foundation of his fortune. He afterwards invested in real estate in this city and by the rise in value has greatly increased his wealth. He is now erecting the large building at the corner of Reade and Broadway, and is elsewhere building to a great extent.

Laing Hugh - - - - - - - 100,000
Has been a Coal dealer. Is now retired, giving his business to his son, of the firm of Laing & Randolph, the largest importers, and the largest dealers in the city; Mr. Randolph, senior, having retired likewise in favor of his son.

Loubat Alphonse - - - - - 200,000
A French importer. Operated in matrimony very advantageously. Now retired.

Laurie George - - - - - 100,000
George and John L. for 30 years merchants, and bachelors, (originally from Scotland) and of the very first character and prime brand as to respectability. The universal consideration they enjoy in this community must be a comfort to them when they look back upon the bright and honorable career they have passed through, though neither, we hope, is yet too advanced in'o the yellow leaf to forswear and become a Benedict, which they both know they could easily do, and have only to say the word in these hard times, and Hymen stands ready to light his altar torch. and cupid to let fly from his quiver one of his most barbed arrows, that not even the tough texture of a bachelor's heart could resist.

Laverty Henry - - - - - 150,000
Has been a Dry Good jobber in Pearl street, in which business he has made his fortune, and from which he has now retired. His parlor is hung with very excellent paintings, the production of his accomplished daughter's pencil.

Lawrence Alexander M. - - - 100,000
Of the old New York family of Lawrence. Made his money in the shipping and importing business—now retired.

Lawrence Abraham - - - - 300 000
Inherited his fortune, and with Cornelius W. and most of the others of the name of Lawrence in this city, from three brothers from England, John, William and Thomas.

Lawrence Cornelius W. - - - 250 000
Of a highly respectable Quaker family in Long Island. He, with his brothers, Joseph and Richard M., made their fortunes in the old distinguished Auctioneer firm of Hicks, Lawrence & Co. This firm failed in 1837, but C. W. and J. backed out before the ship sunk—but Richard was wrecked. Richard's wife, daughter of Jacob Drake, has a snug fortune of $60,000. C. W. first married a rich sister of David M. Prall, second, a daughter of his partner, Mr. Hicks, who is now poor, living with his son-in-law, Dr. Cheesman. C. W. has been Mayor of the city, and is now the Chamberlain. He has been a large speculator in Cotton, and has lost immense sums.

Now President of the Bank of the State of New York, was a farmer's boy, and worked many a long day in rain and sunshine on long Island. There were few lads within twenty miles of him that could mow a wider swarth or turn a neater furrow.

Lawrence D. L. - - - - 200,000

Lawrence Henry H. - - - 100 000
Of a Long Island Quaker family, and with his brother Richard in the Dry Goods Jobbing business in Pearl street. Men of great worth.

Lawrence John B. (estate of) - - 300,000
A model-man of the old school gentlemen merchants is he. Of a very ancient house, of an old New York family, and though inheriting a large estate from his father, he pursued business with the ardor of youth, and doubled and trebled his property in the drug line, as the head of that celebrated firm, Lawrence, Keese & Co. But few such as he and the late Gen. Matthew Clarkson, and men of that high stamp and tone are now left. The halls of our public charities tell of their benevolent deeds and the hours they have stolen from busy life to devote to their duties to the poor and suffering, to relieve the widow and the orphan, and to wipe the tear of sorrow from misery's pallid cheek.

Lawrence Joseph - - - - 250 000
A brother of Cornelius W., and once a partner; now of the firm of Lawrence, Trimble & Co., a large Commission house. He married a rich heiress, daughter of Ald. Thomas S. Townsend.

Lefferts Leffert - - - - - 300,000
President of the Long Island Bank, and formerly County Judge. Resides at Bedford in a splendid mansion, is connected by marriage to the Benson family, and has an only daughter just looking into womanhood; the judge is a prominent supporter of the Dutch Church, and devotes much of his time to its interests.
The Judge's father was a very honest and worthy travelling shoemaker, who carried his pack from house to house, to make and mend shoes for the farmers, and in this way he got acquainted with a Miss Conover, a woman of property, whom he married, and who was the mother of the Bank President.

Lefferts (widow of John) - - 100,000
This lady resides at Flatbush, and is the widow of John Lefferts, who was a member of the Legislature of this State, but cannot marry on account of her husbands will, made according to the Dutch rule. Considering her large estate she lives in an extremely mean house, but is a very worthy lady.

Leggett Samuel - - - - 500 000
With his brother Thomas, made a great part of their money as Jobbers and large Auctioneers in Pearl street. They have retired from business, and are of an old Quaker family. Their father, Thomas, at his death, six months since, at his residence in East Chester, left half a million.

Leggett Thomas - - - - 100,000
The brother mentioned above.

Leggett Thomas - - - - 800.000

Leggett Thomas Jr. - - 150 000

Little Edward B. - - - - 500,000
The brother of Jacob. A widower.

Livingston Maturine - - - 100,000
Though of the family of Livingston, which for a family so prolific and numerous as theirs is has been one of the most wealthy in the State, but little in the subdivision of multiplying generations fell to the share of Maturine, who marrying his cousin, daughter of General Morgan Lewis, above, has however acquired large opulence in perspective. The Livingstons began in this State about 150 years since in the person of a Scotch clergyman, who on a famous old white horse made his itinerations through the valley of the Mohawk tell with effect. From him sprang an intelligent, enterprising race, who in the next generation secured large landed estates, since manorial by their extent on both sides the Hudson River. Martin Van Buren commenced his career as a village lawyer at Kinderhook by undertaking to invalidate the Livingston titles, but their numbers and wealth were too much for him. Their names loom largely on our records; and after the Rensselaers and the Dutch and English noblesse, they rank among the most distinguished families in the State.

Loder Benjamin - - - - 150,000

Loomis Luther - - - - - 200,000

Lorillard, (widow of Jacob,) - - 1,500,000
Three brothers, Jacob, Peter and George, were of an ancient Hugenot family, and all from nothing became rich—the two latter in the tobacco business. They are now all dead, Jacob and Peter leaving widows and children; George was a bachelor; Jacob was at one time in partnership with Gideon Lee and Shepherd Knapp. He left all his money to his widow. One daughter of Peter married T. Reynolds, bookseller deceased; another, John D. Wolfe, of the firm of Wolfe & Bishop; and another, Lieut. Spencer, of the Navy, all three rich. Widow of Jacob resides at Bloomingdale, and her son Jacob resides with her.

Lott Jeramiah - - - - - - 100,000
Mr. Lott was son to Judge Lott of Kings County, and is father-in-law to the Hon. John A. Lott, now State Senator. He resides at Flushing, is extremely close, using spawn for his supper, and setting by a corn-cob fire. He is a worthy member of the Dutch Church, who gets but one sett of shoes on his horses in a year.

Lorillard Peter Jun. - - - - - 1,000,000 son of Peter, and now in the Tobacco business. He received some $200,000 from his uncle George.

Lovett James - - - - - - 200 000
A retired sea captain, and afterwards a shipping merchant, originally from Rhode Island, and of the real grit that comes of late as of yore, from that little chivalrous spot that gave birth to a Perry and a Greene.

Lovett George - - - - - 500 000
Made his fortune in the Lumber business. Retired some twelve years since.

Low Nicholas - - - - - - - 150,000
His father was proprietor of the Sans Souci, at Balston, Spa., and was esteemed. He was worth a million in his day. One of his daughters married Charles King, editor of the American, for a second wife, but she received little. The estate was much embarrassed, and is now in possession of Nicholas, the son, who won the wager for travelling 1,000 miles in 1,000 successive hours.

Low Albert - - - - - - - 200,000

Low Daniel - - - - - - - 300,000
Another enterprising, driving smooth-faced, pleasant son of New England, who resided a long time, as a merchant, in Paris, and surmounting every blasting sirocco in trade, came out rich, and spread largely into real estate.

Lowther William - - - - - 100,000
An Englishman, commenced poor, and acquired his property at a time when coal was at a high price, and a monopoly of the business existed. Is now in business with his son, and is a large importer of Coal.

Ludlow Estate - - - - - - 300,000

Luff John Estate of - - - - - 200,000
A most capital man was this respectable German, and in the excellent quality of his bread and muffin. Jonas Humbert himself, aided by his electrical machine, was no circumstance to him. Old Mr Luff had a pleasant word for every one as he rattled around from door to door in his long light baker's cart, which it seems to us is now become of the things that once were, and are found no more among our modern landaus and Berlins. With a becoming pride his children revert back with pleasure to the honest means by which their revered parent made by his own hands, so large an estate.

Ludlow Thos. W. - - - - - 300,000
By profession a lawyer, but receiving a large inheritance from his father, Thomas, he retired. The grandfather was a baker, and father was a marshal under the British rule, and a tory. A large present of wine was sent to Gen. Washington, which was confiscated, and came into the hands of Thomas W. The first of this wine was sold in 1828, and is now very valuable, if it can be found. The auctioneer is a cousin of the present Thos. W.

Lyman Gen. Samuel P. - - - - 200 000

Now their son is Secretary of Legation at Petersburg! Such is the reward of merit. Has in a measure retired from the Bar.

Maybee —— - - - - - - 150,000

Mayer John - - - - - - 100,000
It is rather as one of the firm of Thos. John & Jos. Mayer, manufacturers of Earthen Ware, Staffordshire, England, than as an individual, that the subject of this notice may be set down, as a man of wealth. Mr. Mayer is a high-minded, honorable man, and blessed with no ordinary share of prudence. As a man of business, he is prompt, and systematic, confining himself exclusively to his own affairs. Mr. M. inherited a good fortune from his father, who, from being a journeyman Tanner and Currier, at Newcastle, under Lyne, Eng., by years of prudence, economy and industry, rose to great wealth, and was respectfully chosen to fill the highest civic offices in his native town. Few men more richly merited success, and none were more happy in all the relations of social life, than Mr. M., senior.

Meeks Joseph Sr. - - - - - 300,000
Joseph Meeks Sr., a wealthy and respeetable inhabitant of the fifth ward, a large land holder of the first ward and elsehwere, and for fifty years an inhabitant of the first ward. His business was that of a Cabinet maker, which he successfully carried on for nearly half a century, and by his assiduous care and attention amassed the above fortune; he commenced in life with a mere nominal capital, and retired about the year 1834—he is of the old Knickerbocker family—though young at the time, he was present at the Battery, when the British evacuated this city, and assisted in tearing to atoms the British flag which was left flying, and also assisted in hoisting the first American flag that was ever raised in this city, in its stead, by order of Gen. Washington.

Morrell Thomas - - - - - 100,000
One of our most prosperous wholesale grocers.

Morris Gouverneur - - - - 1,500,000
His father, the venerable and famous Gouverneur M., late in life married a Randolph, of Virginia, and left this, the only inheritor, rich. The Morris family of New York and New Jersey began on a large figure, and so continued to prosper for 160 years. Col. Lewis Morris, a celebrated English quaker merchant of Barbadoes, and friend of Wm. Penn, coming here to New York with his own ships and goods, and with his brother Richard M., making immediately purchases of large tracts on Long Island, at Harlem river, at Shrewsbury, &c., N. J. (hence Morristown and Morrissiana estate, the last the estate of the youngster above,) &c. And from this truly illustrious stock came all the Morrisses hereabout and in New Jersey; and in their hands the patrimonial estates still rest, together with the household jewelry and plate for many generations back, which few families can say. The grandfather of the present Gouverneur (whose name was also Gouverneur,) inserted in his will that his son should not be educated in Ct., for the reasons that these yankees were too cute at bargains with their Dutch neighbors. Mr. Morris is a plain, unlettered farmer, who daily sends his milk to the city. Besides Morrissiana, an immense tract on the north bank of the Harlem River.—Mr. Morris has land and other stocks.

His only surviving son, Dr. Valentine, was born at Glen Cove, L. I., Aug 20, 1785. He was a student in the office of his relative, Dr. Valentine Seaman, and attended the medical lectures at Columbia College in 1840. In the spring of 1807 he went to London, and became a pupil of Sir Astley Cooper, and for two years attending the hospitals, and the lectures of the elder Cline Abernethy. C. Bell, Astley Cooper, Haighton Currie, and other distinguished teachers. He next visited Edinburgh, and heard the lectures of Gregory, Hooper and Playfair, and after having re-visited the lectures and hospitals of London, returned to New York, where he arrived in the fall of 1808, and met with great success in his profession. The next year he was made Prof. of Surgery in Columbia College, and afterwards held the same position in the College of Physicians and Surgeons. He soon afterwards gave up his commission, and devoted his time exclusively to his practice. In 1818 he performed the operation of tying the arteriar innominata within two inches of the heart This was an original operation—an exploit sufficient to make his name immortal. Sir Astley Cooper has said of him, that he has performed more great operations than any other man that ever lived. He was induced again to accept his professorship in the college, but in 1840 his health failing, he returned to Europe, travelling in England, France, and Egypt. The result of the observations, he has given in a book entitled "Travels in Europe and the East." During his absence, the Medical School of the N. Y. University was organized, and the professorship of surgery tendered to him, which he accepted on his arrival in 1840. The success of the school is unparalelled, and is, in a great measure, owing to the influence and reputation of Dr. Mott. He has accumulated his fortune mainly by his extensive and very lucrative practice, though his patrimonial inheritance was considerable The family of Motts became Quakers in the time of George Fox.

Parish Daniel - - - - - - 500,000

Parish Henry (His brother) - 700,000
This family sprang from an honorable root a surgeon of the British Navy, who about two centuries ago located in this province. A romantic incident connects with Dr. Parish:—In one of the earliest commercial adventures from a neighboring village to the south, and in which a venerable lady, the proprietor of the vessel and her cargo of cider and apples went passenger, accompanied by a beautiful daughter, Dr. Parish also was invited to act as navigator. At the Ocracoke inlet they saw the head of a celebrated pirate nailed to the bowsprit of a vessel of war; and, on their return, were overtaken by a storm which, but for the doctor's seamanship, would have consigned them all to the deep. For this he received the hand of the fair young damsel on board, and thus became a denizen of this province. But from that day to this, the generations have never been blessed with worldly prosperity until in the persons of Henry and his brothers.

Former mayor, &c., of the democratic school, and alleged descendant of Paulding, one o the captors of the British spy Major Andre. That sterling continental soldier little imagined that one of his descendants would become enriched by intermarriage with one of the rankest tory families of the revolution—to wit, a Rhinelander. (See below.)

Payne Thatcher T. - - - - - 100,000
Served a severe apprenticeship to struggling up hill labor, as a scho l teacher, and became of great eminence as a linguist and correct scholar—being of a family part Jew from the east end of Long Island not far from Montauk. Is brother of the justly celebrated Jno. Howard Payne. Thatcher, however in fortune has taken the wind out of the sails of the wandering poet, who has as much as ever to do to get his crust—for Thatcher now has his liveries and his valets; and drives his carriage, and lives in snuff "per force" of a most capital speculation he made in marrying the rich young blooming widow of Mr. Baily, a rich merchant, dec'd, that lett a plumb nearly to her, and we hope Thatcher, who is a lucky rogue, don't forget his poor r lations if he has any.

Pearsall Frances (widow of Thomas C.) 1 500,000
Her husband made money as a Druggist, and realized a princely fortune by investing in real estate. The widow lives in magnificent style in Waverly Place, and supports two or three sons-in-law in good style; and what is of more importance still, has one or two daughters yet on hand. Phelps Anson G. - - - - 1,000,000
He was of Connecticut, and learned the tinner's trade. He went to the South, pedling the workmanship of his own hands, and hauled in the tin as fast as he shoved it off. Subsequently he became a merchant in the tin, iron, and copper line in this city, and afterwards a partner with Mr. Peck, constituting the firm of Phelps and Peck, whose store fell in 1832, by which eight persons were killed. Mr. Phelps has taken into the firm, Messrs. James, Dodge and Stokes, sons in-law, and the two former once his clerks; Mr. Peck having now retired, these three, together with his own son, is now associated with him under the firm of Phelps, Dodge & Co. In 1843, Fitch Smith commenced laying out a village for factories, in his native town, Derby, Ct. The village has grown to a little city, and is called Birmingham. Phelps, Dodge & Co., here erected the most extensive copper works in the U. S., and they contract with the government to supply it with nearly or quite all the copper used for the national vessels. In addition to this, Mr. Phelps has individually bought of Mr. Smith a large share of the water privileges of this place, which are very valuable. Mr. Phelps is a large owner of the iron mines of Pennsylvania, and owns also a part of the Missouri mountain, a valuable mountain of Iron ore. He owns altogether, per appraisal a mill on of acres The firm of which he is a partner, is doing the most extensive business in that line of any house in America. In 1837 this house suspended payment for a short period, at a time when they were worth a million and a half. Mr. Phelps is now President of the Colonization Society, and since his providential escape when his store fell, has been distinguished for his deeds of charity.

Rhinelander Bernard (Estate of) 200,000

The Rhinelanders, for fifty years past, among the richest of the rich in this city, were but humble tailors and shoemakers in the revolution. The tories who staid in the city feathered their nests under the protection of the British flag. Many of them engaged in taking shares in privateering on the rebel merchant ships—and thus were huge fortunes made by the native born enemies of our independence out of the hard earnings of suffering families of patriotic whigs thus reduced to ruin.

Ridgway John - - - 150,000

As this gentleman has a branch of his establishment in this city, although not a resident, it is proper to give him a place. Mr. Ridgway is a China and Earthen Ware Manufacturer, at Camerdom, Staffs.,

England. He succeeded, in company with his brother, to the business of his father, who, from small beginnings rose to great opulence. Few men in their sphere, are more worthy than Mr. R. to be ranked among the benefactors of their race. Just, benevolent and liberal, he has not only succeeded in elevating the character of the several hundred workmen he employs, but has rapidly increased his fortune, without oppressing the laborer.

Smith Sheldon - - - - - - 100,000

Snowden Thomas - - - - - 100,000
Of Irish descent, and a Dry Good merchant.

Salomon H. M. - - - - - 100 000
If this man had received his just dues from the national Government, he would now be worth more than a million of dollars. There is now in the archieves of the Government, documentary evidence, of the Probate's office that his father, a Hebrew Banker and merchant at Philadelphia, in the Revolution was a creditor of Government, when he died in '85 of 355,000 dollars, not a cent of which has yet been received by the son from Congress—nor any office or patronage. He was also banker of the funds of the French Government, through their agents and ambassadors, and sole agent of Finance of our Government till his death.

Mr. Madison, in his posthumous papers, says, that during our Revolutionary war, at a time when members of Congress could not raise a dollar on their own credit, nor on best Virginia drafts, nor from their own State Governments. That Mr. Salomon always came forward to their relief, when reduced to the utmost extremity, and without any remuneration. Mr. Madison writes, "I have been a pensioner for some time on Mr. Salomon."

The family of Mr. Salomon is highly distinguished. His mother was Rachael Franks, daughter of Moses B. Franks, of London, who came from England to America prior to the Revolution, with the distinguished Jacob Franks, being grandson of Aaron Franks. The latter, the companion and friend of King George, with whom he came from Hanover, and loaned him some of the most valuable diamonds in his crown at his coronation.

Jacob was the British king's sole agent for the Northern colonies, and his son David was the king's agent for Pennsylvania. A daughter of David was married to Gov. Hamilton, of Pennsylvania—the proprietor of the great Hamilton woodland estate on the river Schuylkill.

The present Mr. Salomon's uncle, Major Isaac Franks, has been prothonotary of the Supreme Court of Philadelphia, and a son of Major Isaac was afterwards appointed Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania. Mr. Salomon's brother died in 1822, in New Orleans. He was the cashier of the United States Branch Bank in that city, and was distinguished for his talents and fidelity.

Col. David Franks is often mentioned honorably in the Washington papers. The other son of Jacob returned to England, and died a member of Parliament. A son-in-law of Jacob was the distinguished British officer. General De Lancy, who, at the breaking out of the Revolutionary war owned an immense estate in the upper part of this city, which, in consequence of his devotion to his king, was confiscated to the Government. He was rewarded with the appointment of master of ordinance, and aid-de-camp to George the Third, with a salary of 30,000 pounds sterling. His daughter was married to a knight of Bath, and Governor of one of the East India provinces, and admiral in the Navy.

Mr. Salomon while engaged in a long course of commercial life was distinguished for the integrity of his dealings. Also as one of the leaders in the republican ranks since the 2nd election of Jefferson—chosen in 1828 one of the 13 delegates to the Convention at Utica. Author of many Essays, commercial and political. Was member of the last celebrated General Committee, with James Campbell, Will S. Coe, Stephen Allen, and Major Fairlie—his three sons—are distinguished citizens of Alabama.

Springler's Estate Mr. - - - - 200,000

Stacey James G. - - - - - 100,000

Stagg John P. - - - - - - 100,000
Of an old Knickerbocker race.

Stagg Benj. - - - - - - 100,000

Stephens Benjamin - - - - - 500 000
A carpenter of a New Jersey family. He was very industrious, a good workman, and has made all his money by hard toil and shrewd management. He built the old state prison in this city, and was a large contractor for building. One of his sons is the distinguished traveller Stephens.

Stephens John L. - - - - - 100,000
The distinguished Traveller, and the son of Benjamin, above. He has made nearly or quite this sum by his books, in addition to what he may have received, and expects from his father.

Stevens Alex. H. - - - - - 150,000
A surgeon of some repute, and son of General Ebenezer S. The Doctor's three successive marriages to rich heiresses has, we imagine, put more money in his purse than amputating tumors or tying up arteries.

Stevens Horatio G. - - - - - 150,000
Brother of "Alderman Sam," William, John, &c. Their father, Maj. Gen. Ebenezer Stevens was a meritorious and gallant officer of the old continental line of the army of the revolution, and as Major commanded the artillery with deadly effect in several bloody encounters. How honorable to Major Stevens to rise to that point from out of the ranks where it is said he enlisted as a private soldier, leaving his tools as a journeyman carpenter to take up the sword and battle axe for liberty. His sons have many of them inherited much of his inborn energy and power of mind. The Stevenses so celebrated in engineering, and sons of Col. Stevens, of Hoboken, are a totally different family.

Stevens John H. - - - - - 100,000

Stevens Robt. L. - - - - - 350,000

Stevens John C. - - - - - 300,000
Robert L. and John C. are sons of Col. Stevens, deceased, of Hoboken. The eminent ability of Robert, as one who alone has inherited the mantle of his friend Fulton, is two well known to need remark.

Stevenson John B. - - - - - 100,000
An old Physician.

Stewart Alexander T. - - - - 800,000
The celebrated Dry Good Merchant of Broadway whose shop is the grand resort of the fashionables He has lately bought Washington Hall. which he intends to fit up for stores. He married a Miss Mitchell a lady of some property.

Stewart Robert - - - - - - 200,000
One of two Scotch brothers, who. by marriage inherits the great old Dutch estate of the Lispenards, near Canal street.

Steward John . - - - - - 300,000
But 30 years a resident here, and by the force of his own straight-forward, clear-headed sagacity in the dry goods line, &c., has acquired near half a million.

Steward John Jr. - - - - - 100,000

Stewart Lispenard - - - - - 500,000
He is now possessed of the remains of the Lispenard estate, in addition to a large amount received by his wife, a daughter of L. Sailes, deceased, a native of France, who amassed a large fortune in this city, by cautious loans during great pressures, and by rigid economy.

Alexander Stewart, the father of Lispenard, came to this country with his elder brother, Robert, from Scotland. They commenced as brokers, and acquired some property, when Robert failed. paying a pistareen on a pound—that is one seventh, and put his property into possession of his brother, with the agreement that the survivor should receive the estate belonging to both. Previous to this, Alexander having married a daughter of Lispenard, of an old Dutch family, and owning a large tract of meadows and marshes in the vicinity of where Canal street now is. On the death of Lispenard, Alexander Stewart came into possession of a portion of this estate, by his wife, and also a good portion of that of her two brothers, Leonard and Anthony, who died, after having parted with the best part of their fortune; each leaving heirs. Mr. Stewart had also the entire possession of the estate of his imbecile sister-in law, who left him her fortune, by will. Alexander dying, this estate came into the possession of his brother Robert, who, on his decease, a short time since. bequeathed it to his nephew, Lispenard, the only son of Alexander. James Watson Webb, his brother, an officer in the army, and M. Stewart, a chaplain in the navy, married daughters of Alexander Stewart. Since the death of Alexander S., there has been much legal controversy in regard to this estate, particularly between several of the heirs of old M. Lispenard, and those of Alexander Stewart on the one hand, and Robert and Lispenard Stewart on the other. Lispenard professes to hold the estate which, though immense is incumbered, solely for the benefit of those having legal or equitable claims on it.

St. John Samuel (estate of) - - 300,000
Lately deceased in New Haven, Ct He was early in life a Tailor, and made the bulk of his fortune by fortunate investments in real estate, and by loaning during pressures. He was once Alderman of the second ward.

Storm Isaac A. - - - - - 200,000
Early in life he left the place of his nativity, somewhere in Dutchess Co, and came to this city. It is said of him that about the first enterprise in which he embarked, was the purchasing of a keg of beeswax, the profits on which gave him a start, while a clerk in a grocery store, and un outbreedly formed the nucleus around which his present ample fortune has gathered. "Industry and economy" have always been his motto He is now one of the very oldest grocers in this city.

Sturges Jonathan - - - - - 200,000

Stuyvesant Peter G. - - - - - 4,000,000
His ancestor, Governor-General and Admiral Von Peter Stuyvesant, that redoubtable little fiery gentleman, whose portraiture is so graphically touched by Diedrich Knickerbocker, and who, as the last of the Dutch dynasty, went out uproariously, a true marriner, subjecting all his vassals to courts martial, military flogging, &c., if they but dared to look at his surliness, is so familiarly known in the history of New York, that this line suffices. Gov. Nicoll, from England, who brought the little gentleman to his bearings, omitted one thing, viz: to make him disgorge some of his cruel exactions, but Peter took the oath to the Gorgon banner of St. George, and doffed the beaver-tail and windmill escutcheon of Dutch authority, and thus retaining his rich cabbage gardens at Corlaer's Hook and Bowery, hid himself away as snug as a mouse in a cheese. The generations from him are all baptized in the lace shirt in which he was christened. They inherit and keep too, the SILVER spoon.

Suarez L. S. - - - - - - 150,000

Suckley George - - - - - 300,000

Targee John - - - - - - 150,000
A young French adventurer, silversmith by trade, emigrated, some fifty years ago, to this country, and by good conduct and industry, and great shrewdness as a politician in the democratic ranks, to which he, as it turned out, wisely attached himself, rendered himself eminently conspicuous in that party, and for his untiring devotion to their interests, was richly rewarded with sundry profitable posts of honor. So distinguished had he become from the Jeffersonian triumph of 1800 upward, that Vice President Tompkins made him his confidential friend, and he was everywhere looked upon for a time as the most influential leader, if not chief of the party in this quarter of the state. Hence during the struggles to supplant Clinton, the poet Croaker wrote thus:—

"I'm sick of General Jackson's toast,
Canals are nought to me;
Nor do I care who rules the roast,
Clinton or John Targee."

He commenced business in this city some thirty years ago as a carpet dealer, and in 1827 established the first carpet manufactory in the country, and in the following year built a second factory a few miles distant from the first—and the result has been two large villages, one named Thompsonville in Ct., and the largest carpet manufactory in the whole world. The first carpet made in this factory was sold in this city by Geo. W. Betts, in Pearl street. There are now several other factories in operation, and nine-tenths of the ingrain carpets sold here, are made in this country, and are equal and even superior to the English. The Thompsonville factory turns out a large amount of Brussels carpet of the best kind in the market, much of old Brussels is made in this country. Mr. Thompson, with his his son Henry G. and J. Elnathan Smith, constituting the firm of Orrin Thompson & Co., have in the city the largest sales room in the United States, for carpets. Mr. Thompson is a self-made man of great capacity, and much esteemed for his virtues.

ried a daughter of Henry Brevoort, deceased, who was the father also of the great millionare, Henry Brevoort.

Tucker Fanning C. - - - - - 150,000
This is truly a "tall" good fellow in every sense, being near seven feet in his shoes, as is plain to all men's views, sings an admirable song and patronizes music and the opera, drives a fine team, and in short, is a first rate gentleman, living as a gentleman should, and showing that one can be such without neglecting even the severer engagements of business and the counting room. For, where is the better and richer merchant than he among the whole catalogue of shippers? Prof. John B. Beck married a daughter of Mr. Tucker. Is President of the Leather Manufacturers Bank.

Turner Mr. - - - - - 100,000
Of the old Gazette.

Underhill Thomas S. - - - - - 100,000

V

Van Allen James I. - - - - - $400,000
A shrewd old Knickerbocker, formerly from Kinderhook; made his large property in the dry goods trade, in times when great profits and small risks were the order of the day.

Van Zandt, Thomas - - - - 150,000
Of an old Dutch family, always lived upon his property, and has for many years resided in Europe.

Van Antwerp James - - - - 200,000

Van Arsdale Peter, Dr. - - - - 100,000
A highly respected physician, who has by dint of severe and continued hard labor in his profession, acquired, in the upper part of our city, where the pay is small, but sure, a comfortable fortune. He is of the old Dutch families.

Van Buren John - - - - - 100,000

Vanderbilt Cornelius - - - - 1,200,000
Of an old Dutch root. Cornelius has evinced more energy and "go aheadativeness" in building and driving steamboats, and other projects, than ever one single dutchman possessed. It takes our American hot suns to clear off the vapors and fogs of the "Zuyder Zee," and wake up the phlegm of a descendant of old Holland.

Vandervoort Peter - - - - - 150,000

Van Nest Abraham - - - - - 300,000
An old Dutchman, and self-made man; formerly a Saddler, then engaged in the saddlery hardware business, in which, and by the rise of real estate, he has made is money.

Van Rensellaer (Estate of) Stephen - 10,000,000
The late Patroon Van Rensellaer, of Albany, the lord of the manor Rensellaerwyck, the most ancient and distinguished name of the old Dutch gentry who came hither shortly after the discovery of the Hudson river. 1609 The first patroon of Lord Van Rensellaer, owned near thirty miles square, both sides of the river, at, and above, and below Albany; the estate then comprehending that city, then a fortress, now a free town and capital of the State, while the manor and all its feudal privileges, and the Helderberg mountains and its hardy tenants still do homage to the "noble house of Van Rensellaer." No family in America has so long kept together an estate to be compared with this in value, extent and princely hereditaments. Next to John Jacob Astor's it is the wealthiest in the country. Besides the "lordship" the late Patroon owned hundreds of lots in New York city; among others the block where Niblo has his garden This estate is now divided between two sons, one of whom owns Albany county and the other Van Rensellaer county.

Van Nostrand John - - - - - 150,000

Van Zandt Gen. Peter - - - - 350,000
This comes by his wife, a daughter of old George Janeway, deceased. He has served in the revolutionary war.

Varian Isaac L. - - - - - 200,000
Of the very oldest of the Dutch "Mynheers" who, some two centuries since, under probably, Gov. Peter Minuit or Gov. Wm. Kieft, located with the Dyckmans, &c., as honest mechanics at Harlem. Isaac L. has been Senator and Mayor.

Varnum Joseph B. - - - - - 350,000
Is from a Massachusetts family, son of Speaker Varnum. He is the senior partner in the firm of Varum, Graham & Webb, a large Dry Good house in Pearl street.

Verplanck Gulian C. - - - - - 200,000
Son of the rich Judge V., of Fishkill, deceased "Gulian Verplank," the ancestor, is one of the names found on the earliest Dutch records of New Amsterdam, and though himself of plain origin, rose to consideration in municipal trusts, after the English Conquest, 1646. Gulian C. V., late Senator, holds the most polished and classical pen in American literature, but wants the pathos and feeling of Irving, and the strength and energy of many other of our native writers. He has been a Senator of this State, and has been distinguished as a whig politician. He is now editing one of the best editions of Shakspeare ever published.

Watts James N. - - - - - 200,000

Waddell W. C. H. - - - 300,000
Mr. W. was appointed United States Marshal of this district by Gen. Jackson, and occupied the situation till superceded by the present incumbent. Mr. W. has been twice married, and each time, we believe, to great pecuniary advantage. On the Bankrupt Law going into effect he was appointed general assignee for New York and vicinity, which situation he still holds, and which, no doubt, has tended not a little to increase his previously abundant coffers.

Wells Richard J. - - - 250,000

Willowby Samuel A. - - - 300,000
This is the gentleman that is called Lord Willowby, partly in consequence of his living in a very elegant and tasty mansion at Brooklyn, of his own erection, and partly on account of his descent from the noble English family, of which Sir Henry Pollard Willowby, of Baldon House, Oxford, is now the head. He was once in the lace business in this city with Mr. Crips, an Englishman but the principal part of his property is derived from the estate of his mother in-law, Mrs. Duffy. He had a Bank of his own which is discontinued. He is a friend to religion, and has erected a handsome Church where his son-in-law preaches. He is disliked on account of his aristocratic notions, but is truly a very good natured worthy man.

Whitehouse —— - - - - 100,000

Whitlock William Jr. - - - 100,000
A shipping and commission merchant.

Whitney Stephen - - - - 5 000,000
Some estimate his wealth at double the amount. He was born in Ct., and began life as a poor boy in this city, by retailing liquors, and finally dealt in the article by wholesale. The great impetus to his fortune, however, was given several heavy but fortunate speculations in cotton. His investments in real estate many years ago, have doubled his fortune by a rise in value. Mr. Whitney is a very shrewd manager, and close in his dealings.

Whittemore Timothy - - - 100,000
Another self-made man was his father, Samuel, by that most curious and most ingenious of all ingenious Yankee inventions, the Wool card maker, which by its complicated movements almost imitates the human hand, and human intelligence, self-propelling by steam. It is a rare instance of the invention of genius giving return profits.
